George Prescott Seeks State Senatorship

YIELDS TO HIS FRIENDS' PLEAS TO ENTER RACE

His Election Would Insure Dist. of Fine Representation

George F. Prescott of Dixon, head of the Prescott Oil Company and long a leader in progressive movements for the betterment of the community, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator, subject to the action of the voters of the Thirty-fifth Senatorial district at the primary election on April 10th.

For a number of months Mr. Prescott's friends, who are legion, have pressed him to become a candidate and he has at last consented. His petitions are now in circulation and will be properly filed with the Secretary of State. The circulation of Mr. Prescott's petitions is arousing enthusiasm among the people of this community and county as well as in other parts of the district where the voters are rallying to his support.

Has Excellent Record

In Mr. Prescott's past record of integrity and ability and progressive thought and action his supporters see a hope for splendid representation for this district in Springfield should he be elected.

Mr. Prescott is a successful business man, a student of modern trends, a clear thinker and a crusader for the welfare of the people. He is affiliated with no political faction or group and would give intelligent, fair and just representation to all the district and would be a distinct addition to the state senate.

Two Dixon Women Hurt in Accident Thursday Evening

Mrs. Frank Perry, 1111 Fourth street, and Mrs. Frances Bushy-Swartz, 503 East McKinney street, were injured in an automobile crash west of Ashton on the Lincoln Highway shortly after 6 o'clock last evening while they were returning home from Chicago. Mrs. Perry was driving her car and had passed an east bound truck, when the car left the paving and turned over several times.

Both ladies were thrown through the top of the car, which was torn off. Mrs. Perry sustained fractured ribs and was bruised about the body, while Mrs. Swartz suffered a broken arm and was also bruised. Both were removed to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital in this city where they were resting quite comfortably today. The car, which was badly wrecked, was hauled to a local garage.

Head of Chicago's Board of Health is Criticized by Mates

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The executive council of the Chicago Medical Society adopted a report criticizing Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the City Board of Health, with withholding too long, news of the outbreak of amoebic dysentery.

The report was prepared by the Public Health Administration committee of the society and asserted that had a more prompt revelation been made the spread of the sickness might have been checked, with a saving of life.

The physicians of Chicago have never approved the mixing of political ambitions with the serious matter of health protection.

Jealous Janitor Calls Doctor to House; Shoots Him

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—A janitor summoned a prominent physician to his home last night, accused him of improper conduct with his wife, then emptied a revolver at the physician's head, two of the bullets taking effect.

The physician, Dr. Otto J. Rabe, was reported in a critical condition. He is a staff physician at Woodlawn hospital.

After the deed, the janitor, Adolph Paulson, 44 calmly laid his pistol aside and called police.

At the police station, the janitor's wife declared the story of her unfaithfulness was without foundation, adding that her husband of 14 years was insanely jealous. She is the mother of four children.

MURDER CASE NEAR END

Benton, Ill., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Closing arguments were scheduled for today in the trial of Charles Gaudin, 57, former president of the State Bank of Sesser, charged with the murder of Joseph Garbiero at Sesser, June 17, 1932, following an alleged quarrel over a mortgage foreclosure.

M. A. WATSON IS KILLED BY TRAIN THIS AFTERNOON

Struck by Fast Passenger on Crossing East of Nachusa

M. A. Watson of 416 Second street this city, was instantly killed about 1 o'clock this afternoon when his automobile was struck and demolished by Chicago & NorthWestern passenger train No. 11, west bound, on the Spangler crossing a mile and a half east of Nachusa.

He was alone in his car and apparently did not see the train bearing down on him at high speed. The train was stopped and the crew brought the body to the depot here, from whence it was taken to the Preston mortuary.

Mr. Watson was en route to Amboy when he met his tragic death.

AUSTRIAN CIVIL WAR OVER; PEACE RETURNED TODAY

Rumors of Attempted Assassinations are Circulated

Vienna, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Except for rumors of attempted assassinations, threats of sabotage, and occasional gunfire, peace had returned to Austria today after four days of civil war.

The stubborn battles between Socialist and government forces, which had taken from 1,000 to 1,500 lives was ended, but unverified rumors were rampant.

One of these told of a wholesale assassination plot directed against Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss—who has escaped assassination before—Vice Chancellor Emil Fey, and Second Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst von Starhemberg.

High Officials Named

Other high government officials likewise were mentioned as the objects of plots but the principals concerned admitted nothing.

Socialist headquarters issued orders calling for a campaign of sabotage against utilities and public services and for guerrilla warfare.

The only evidence of such warfare, however, was a short but brisk battle in the Stadt-park district last night when approximately 20 Socialist riflemen hopped out of sewer manholes to snipe at Heimwehr soldiers.

They ducked down again into their hiding place, however, and there was no evidence of casualties.

Individual Attacks

Although the four-day civil war apparently was at an end, the council of Socialist republican defense troops issued a command for individual attacks of Heimwehr-men.

These Fascist troops, headed by Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, a most bitter foe of the Socialists, figured prominently in putting down the rebellion.

They fought side by side with police and regular soldiers in the Vienna working class districts, at Linz and at other points.

Socialist leaders in Vienna issued orders after a secret meeting today, gave strict orders that the attacks are not to be directed at soldiers or police.

However, acts of sabotage against the utilities and the public services were mentioned in instructions sent out after the meeting.

Between Two Fires

Thus, although successful in helping end the bitter civil conflict, Austrian Fascists were faced today with fire from both sides.

The Christian Socialist party, following Prince von Starhemberg's charge that leaders of this party were responsible for the disorders, called upon Chancellor Dollfuss to reconvene parliament. The party, with which Chancellor

Members of General Assembly are Now Listening to Two Prayers on Each Legislative Day; Tells Joke

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Members of the General Assembly, accustomed to prayer at the opening of each legislative day, are now listening to two invocations daily.

The rules require each session to be opened with prayer.

The second and third special sessions are now running concurrently. Usually both Houses begin the day with the second special session, which is opened with the customary preliminaries, including prayer by the Chaplain. When all business of the second session has been transacted the legislators advance to the third special session.

BRAGS OF HUGE TIP RESULT IN DRIVER'S DEATH

Chicago Man Is Found Slain After Getting Tip of $250

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Harry Moskowitz, 33, a taxicab driver, was found shot to death in alley beside his home today and police believed he was slain because he had bragged of a $250 tip he got from a passenger.

Morris Esko, Moskowitz's employer, told of the lavish passenger. He said that Moskowitz had taken him from a west side tavern to a house in Wheaton, Ill., about a 10 mile ride—and that the man produced a huge roll of $1, $5 and $10 bills and gave the driver $250.

During the ride, Esko quoted Moskowitz as saying, the passenger boasted of what a tough hoodlum he was and of how he was now "sitting on top of the world" because of the "fifty grand" in cash he had gathered from bank robberies.

Flashed Money

When Moskowitz returned to Chicago, Esko continued, he flashed the money in several west side haunts, recounting the story of how he had got it. He split it into two rolls, Esko said, and the supposed robber who killed him got only one of them.

The $88 remaining in the cab-driver's pockets were held for his wife and three children.

Police were also trying to locate the alleged bank robber, thinking of recent kidnappings in which large quantities of small bills were used as ransom and of John Hamilton, Dillinger gangster still at large, who is thought to possess much of the $300,000 loot taken from banks in the last year by the bandit gang.

BRIDEGROOM OF THREE DAYS IS HELD PRISONER

Family Has Him Arrested on Vagrancy Charge Today

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—It was Donald Keith Brinson's idea to spend his honeymoon in Havana. Friends of the family had other ideas. Result:

Donald Keith Brinson is in jail on a vagrancy charge.

His bride of three days, to whom he was wed after a 36-hour courtship is in seclusion in a hotel with her mother.

And police hear that an attempt will be made to have the marriage annulled.

The bride, the former Florence Marks, 23, daughter of a New York book collector, and Brinson were married at Fort Lauderdale. They were ready to embark on an airplane trip to Cuba when a vagrancy warrant was obtained. Friends of the family, whose identity was not disclosed, took the action, police said, at the request of the bride's father, H. F. Marks.

On the marriage license Brinson gave his name as Donald Keith. Police said they learned his real name is Brinson. He said he was born in Chicago and that Los Angeles is his home.

The prisoner said he has a brother, whose name he gave as Walter E. Brinson, associated with a vaudeville circuit in Chicago.

Insult Assumed to Be Staying in Bed

Athens, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, Sr. continued today to shut himself off from visitors and it was assumed the Chicagoan was still in bed.

When the household was asked his reaction to the announcement of Premier Tsaldaris that the former utilities leader might stay in Greece as long as he was sick in bed Madame Kuyumojoglou, who with Mrs. Insull is attending him, replied "nothing to say."

14-Year-Old Boy Saves Boss' Store

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Jimmy Gallagher, 14 years old and in grade 6-A of grammar school, met two terrorists of the modern racket today and saved his boss' store from them.

He was in the store—a dairy station—early this morning when two men broke the front window and tossed a dynamite bomb, the fuse smoking, into the doorway. Jimmy picked it up and tossed it out into the street. It lit under an automobile, went off with a roar, wrecked the car and shattered windows in the block.

Grant hospital is just across the street, and the blast awakened the patients.

"I just heaved it outside," said the boy.

SEVEN NEGROES ESCAPED FROM STATE HOSPITAL

Police, Attendants Kept Busy During the Night

Seven Negro patients at the Dixon state hospital between the ages of 17 and 22 years, succeeded in escaping from the jail ward last evening about 8 o'clock and from that hour until after midnight local police and state hospital details were kept busy answering calls to various parts of the city.

The first call came about 10:30 when it was reported that three men had been discovered in the basement of the Kline & Heckman building on North Galena avenue. They succeeded in escaping with several articles of clothing and a pair of boots, by climbing out of a window before the police arrived. About midnight, the seven men were seen near the Illinois Central depot and escaped when members of a detail of attendants and police attempted to round them up.

This morning about 2:30 Patrolman Richard Pomeroy captured two of the escaped prisoners at the Northwestern passenger station, where they were waiting for an east bound train. All of the escaped patients were former Cook county residents.

Can Starve People

During Smith's argument in which he outlined the powers of the Postmaster General over air mail contracts, Judge Knox interposed:

"In other words, he can starve us to death."

"Yes," said the attorney, "he can starve us to death."

"Then why can't he kill you outright?" asked Knox.

"Because we have certain rights and redresses under the law," said Smith.

The attorney then went on to challenge the chief premises on which Farley acted to cancel the air mail contracts.

"We are operating under a route contract dated Jan. 30, 1933," he said, "for something somebody did in 1930. It seems to be a prenatal influence."

Mrs. Silas Heng Died Early Today: Funeral on Monday

Mrs. Josephine Rueland Heng passed away at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital this morning at 3:45 after an illness of several months duration. She is survived by her husband, Silas Heng of Dixon, one sister, Mrs. William Paslen of Chicago, and one brother, Eugene Rueland of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the home of her brother Eugene Rueland, 208 Everett street Monday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Anne's Catholic church at 9:30. Rev. Fr. Caine officiating. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery at Sterling.

Two Children Met Death on Tex.-Pac. Railway Crossing

Dallas, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Two school children were killed and their teacher was injured critically today when the automobile in which they were riding ran into the side of a fast Texas & Pacific passenger train at a crossing west of Dallas.

Evelyn Wayne Dalton, 9, and her sister, Mary Nell, 7, lost their lives. Mrs. Pearl C. Newton, 38, who had picked them up in her car on the way to the Eagle Ford school, suffered severe head and body bruises.

The conventional automobile body has less wind resistance when traveling backward than when moving normally.

Suit to Stop Abrogation of Mail Contracts On

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Federal Judge Knox this afternoon denied an injunction to restrain the Postoffice Department abrogating contracts with air lines.

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The suit of the Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc. to prevent cancellation of its air mail contract was challenged by the government today on the ground that it could not be brought without the government's consent.

Martin Conboy, United States Attorney, told Federal Judge John C. Knox that he was without jurisdiction in the matter.

He contended that even though the suit named Postmaster General James A. Farley and New York's Postmaster James J. Kiely, as defendants, it was really against the United States which can be sued only with its consent.

Against Officers

John Thomas Smith, attorney for the air line, contended that the suit was not against the United States but against officers of the United States to restrain them from improper acts.

"There is no doubt about the jurisdiction of the Court over the person of Kiely, is there?" Judge Knox asked.

"Nor is there any doubt about the jurisdiction over the subject matter," said Smith.

"I'll hold that Kiely is here and subject to the jurisdiction of the Court," said Judge Knox. "I'll hold that Farley is not here, and not in person subject to jurisdiction of this court has the power, if it is satisfied, to issue the injunction."

Attorneys explained that Judge Knox's ruling meant that he could issue an injunction should he decide himself with jurisdiction, even though Farley was absent.

PUBLIC TO FEEL PINCH OF ARMY'S FLYING THE MAIL

Mileage Cut Over One Half: Deliveries to be Slower

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The government will sharply tighten its mail belt when the Army takes over the job, and the public may feel the pinch. The miles flown will be reduced more than half.

Post office officials, busy with arrangements for the Monday night transfer, expressed a belief, however, that there won't be a serious reduction in service.

The "primary" routes are complete, they said, three additional "secondary" routes have been mapped, and the Army plans to restore more shortly.

At present, however, commercial companies are flying about 95,000 miles daily. Routes so far announced for the Army total only 42,570.

Queries are reaching the various federal agencies: How does this affect the business man or banker anxious to get papers from New York to San Francisco with only a day's delay?

Slower Delivery

Well, he still can mail the letter in New York in the morning and have it delivered in San Francisco the next morning. Only it will not reach San Francisco until 10:45 A. M. instead of getting there for the first truck delivery.

This line, backbone of the air mail service, is least affected. From New York to Chicago there will be five planes instead of six. Chicago to Kansas City remains at three, and westward there will be two instead of three.

A varying system has been mapped for landing fields and lighted airways. The Army fliers in many instances will use fields owned by the companies they replace.

Some company officials have offered their facilities free. Others will be paid. When this is not possible Army fields or emergency landing fields will be employed.

The general daily mileage will be reduced both by curtailing frequency of trips and by abandoning for the present many routes. About 125 Army planes will be used as compared to a larger commercial fleet.

"Bounty" Considered

A direct federal "bounty" for aviation, replacing scrapped air mail contracts, received strong administration thought today.

An idea behind such an undisputed bounty would be to build up stronger aerial defenses in case of war.

Another disclosure today was that Comptroller General J. R. McCarl, watchdog of federal expenditures, is shaping a stop-gap against excessive profits on Army-Navy air plane contracts. This move is at congressional request.

Whatever the new federal plans, it appeared that the airmail scrap is far from over.

Walter F. Brown, Hoover Postmaster General, said that charges of conspiracy and "illegal" acts by his administration, as put forward by his successors, were completely lacking in "justification."

Brown to Appear

Waiving immunity, Brown arranged to tell the Senate air mail investigating committee on Monday his version of the tangle.

Airmail contract holder protests continued to arrive. One company official asserted Postmaster General Farley himself had "been misled in this airmail matter."

Hired Man on Canadian Farm is Found to Be Texas Widow When a Telegram Tells Her of Her Legacy

Springfield, Ont., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Jean P. Crandall, 27-year-old widow, who announced yesterday she had been notified of inheriting a fortune, said today the story was purely mythical.

"Just forget about it," said Mrs. Crandall, "it was only intended as a joke."

She said the telegram she displayed yesterday, telling of a $99,000 bequest by "Madame Dickinson," her grandmother in Chicago, originated only two miles from the farm where she worked as a laborer.

Springfield, Ont., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Although she gripped a telegram saying she had inherited $99,000, Jean Crandall, 27-year-old widow, who worked as a farm hand for three weeks before her employer learned she was a woman, doubted its authenticity today.

But, taking no chances, she is going to Chicago tomorrow—either to collect the small fortune left her by her grandmother or find she had been the victim of a cruel hoax.

Clad in overalls, Mrs. Crandall was working in a parsnip bin when a telegram from Chicago was given her saying she had been left the money. Then her employer, Simon Charlton, found his hired hand was a woman.

Advices from Chicago said that no law firm of the name signed to the message could be found and that there was no record there of an estate of "Madame Dickinson," his grandmother.

Mrs. Crandall is a native of El Paso, Tex., and has worked on farms in western Canada. She disguised herself as a man, she explained, so she could get work.

If the legacy proves genuine she plans to take Charlton and his wife on an air trip to Texas and from there to Hawaii. Her father was a Hawaiian.

400,000 OF RURAL CWA WORKERS TO BE DROPPED SOON

Demobilization Began Last Night: Plans are Announced

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Civil Works Administration will drop 400,000 workers in rural areas throughout the country on Friday, February 23.

Announcing new regulations for the next ten weeks, Harry L. Hopkins, administrator, said that for the present hours of labor would remain at 24 a week in cities and 15 in rural areas.

The demobilization, which started last night with the dropping of between 150,000 and 200,000 workers on Federal projects, will be carried on at the rate of approximately 10 per cent a week through March.

After that it is scheduled to be accelerated until the entire force of 4,000,000 men and women will have been demobilized by May 1.

The demobilization orders affects every state equally insofar as it has gone out, Hopkins said.

New Regulations

The new regulations as Hopkins outlined them:

1—All persons living in households where another member is working, whether on public or private employment, will be dropped first.

2—All persons who have other resources.

Civil Works will be maintained

FATHER ADMITS "STUFFING" IT THRU AIR-HOLE

Charles Backus Broke After Many Hours of Questioning

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Police today prepared to dynamite the Rock river in their search for the body of 6-year-old Charles Backus, whose father, Charles Backus, Sr., CWA worker and fruit peddler, yesterday confessed killing the boy with a blow and disposing of the body through a hole in the ice.

Robert Nash, State's Attorney, meanwhile announced that if efforts to recover the body are unsuccessful, he will prosecute Backus on charges of incest. The charges, he said, would be based on admissions made by Dorothy Backus, 14-year-old daughter.

If the body is found, Nash said the state will prosecute on a charge of murder.

Made Long Statement

Backus' 15,000 word statement was made after more than 48 hours of grilling by Rockford police. In it he said he had sought to punish his son for refusing to change clothes after returning from school and that the boy fell unconscious when he was struck.

Backus then took police to the river and pointed out the spot where he said he had disposed of the boy's body.

"I put it there, I was scared," he said.

The father had persisted in denying knowledge of his son's whereabouts. Last night, after long questioning, he said to Joseph A. Rank of the State Highway patrol:

"All right, I'll show you where it is."

Pointed Out Hole

Then followed the trip to the river where the peddler pointed out the air hole into which, he told police, he had stuffed the boy's body.

There was no trace of the body, however, and the "how" was to be dynamited today in an effort to bring it to the surface.

A verbal confession, which Rank attributed to Backus, still left details of the manner in which the boy died vague.

Backus told police he had re-animated his son when the boy came home from school a week and a half later. The boy appeared ill, the peddler said.

Police quoted Backus as saying: "I struck him and he became unconscious. We (presumably meaning members of the family) carried him onto a bed and rubbed him, and I thought he died of poisoning. I took his body and loaded it on a truck and went to the foot of Clifford street and found an air hole in the ice. I stuffed the body into that."

Backus, the police said, indicated his willingness to go to prison, but they quoted him as saying he did not "want to go to the electric chair."

Minneapolis Symphony Concert Was a Treat

Thursday afternoon and evening at the Midway Theatre in Rockford the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra delighted a large audience with superb concerts, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy. The thunderous applause given the director and his men, gave evidence that his efforts were appreciated.

From the minute, at the opening of the afternoon concert, that Mr. Ormandy raised his baton and the orchestra began the richly combed first movement of Tchaikowsky's "Pathétique" symphony (the sixth) the audience of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin folk who were assembled understood why music-lovers all over the country have clamored to hear the Minneapolis orchestra, and why Minnesota folk have gladly underwritten its expenses season after season.

The Beethoven Seventh Symphony, as it was played last night, had everything. All the pastoral loveliness and the innocent, rustic simplicity were in the first movement; all the heart-breaking beauty was in the scherzo; all the joyousness in the scherzo; and all the bright threads of melody, woven into a complex but perfect pattern, in the final movement.

The orchestra and leader have just returned from a 7,000 mile tour, being out since January 25th, but in no way did either the director or of players exhibit the fatigue which all must have felt after such a strenuous program of playing night after night, and traveling. Attending the concert from this city were: Dixon Band Director Russell Mason and Miss Frances Patrick. After the concert Mr. Mason was delighted to greet many of the musicians with whom he had played in Chicago.

Men's Club Sponsors Banquet and A Lincoln Program

The Methodist Men's Club is a place where folks go once a month expecting to eat a hot, tasty supper and listen to a high grade program. These expectations were fully met last Tuesday evening, which was Lincoln Night.

This good banquet, principally of chicken, hot biscuits and gravy, is a pattern for any who will enter to our future appetites. Mrs. L. C. Street and her Circle 4 of the Ladies Aid were in charge. The tables and room were appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Crawford Thomas presented St. Paul's Lutheran church male quartette and they appeared twice on the program, responding to numerous encores. They thanked the women for the dinner and remarked that they had obtained it with a song. Their first tenor is Merton Menier; second tenor, Duane Wood; first bass, Robert Fulmer; second bass, Sumner Wilson; accompanist, Mrs. Eleanor Chapman. Their numbers delighted the audience.

Dr. Robert Stansell of Milwaukee, brother of Dr. Gilbert Stansell, pastor of the Dixon First Methodist church, gave a masterly and eloquent address on "Lincoln. Studying Lincoln has been a lifelong hobby with him and it is doubtful if there is a more capable Lincoln orator anywhere than he. When Dr. Gilbert Stansell introduced his brother he stated that he "had a hard time bringing him up properly," but all think he did a good job.

In his address Dr. Stansell dwelt on Lincoln's boyhood, his term in the legislature, his career as a lawyer, his ability as an orator and campaign speaker, his problems and achievements as President. He told about his wit, his love of the humorous, his firmness, his tender sympathies.

The audience was delighted with one Lincoln story that Dr. Stansell told. An old fisherman was always boasting of the large fish he was catching but it seems that no one believed him. So he bought a pair of scales and henceforth always weighed his catch right before the eyes of the doubter. He won his point and was looked upon thereafter, for many years, as a truthful fisherman. A baby was born in the town. They wanted to weigh the baby but they had no scales. Somebody suggested that they borrow the old fisherman's scales. They did. And the baby weighed 37 pounds.

A fitting climax to the program was "The Perfect Tribute," rendered by Mrs. A. T. Hardy. Mrs. Hardy is so helpful and always goes things so beautifully that she is enthusiastically welcomed whenever she appears.

W. C. Brewster, the program chairman, is to be commended on providing this splendid program. The women were welcome guests. The men enjoyed their presence so much that the men invite them to come again March 13.

W. H. M. S. of Grace Church Met Wednes.

Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Grace Evangelical church met Wednesday afternoon at the church.

The meeting opened with a song "Pass Me Not, Oh Gentle Saviour," Mrs. A. W. Hartman had charge of the devotions and Mildred Hartman sang a solo "God Will Answer Every Prayer."

Current events were given by Mrs. Edward Holbrook. Mrs. Veron Schrock read the leaflet, "The Secret." Mrs. Archie Klein gave the beautiful vocal solo, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Mrs. George LeFevre gave the reading, "The Patch Work Quilt." The fifth chapter of the study book, Eastern Women Today and Tomorrow, the chapter dealing with the "Movement Toward a Higher Level of Health," was given by Mrs. A. D. Shaffer.

Mrs. Sarah Reir, the president then took charge of the business, after which all were invited to the basement where tempting refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed by all present. Miss Anna Johnson and Mrs. Ella Ambrose were the hostesses for the afternoon.

Delightful Program At General Assembly

By BRADLEY MOLL

With classes becoming just a trifle dull, the student body of the high school was treated to a very interesting assembly this morning.

The program opened with a group of songs by the girls Hi Tri and included a very clever version of the "Harlem Goat." The audience next was entertained by a violin duet, which was beautifully executed by Jewel Auman and Donna Burtfield, playing, "Night, From Franz Litz's 'Lubstrum,' and "My Moonlight Madonna." Next Mrs. Willard Thompson sang two songs made famous by the poems of Eugene Field, entitled, "Little Boy Blue" and "Winkin' Blinks," and "Nod." Mrs. Lloyd Davies acting as the accompanist.

Next the Hi Tri girls sang some old class songs and then the new. Gilbert Praz, co-business manager of the Junior play next introduced Lyle Snader, as the memorable Alaric; Lorraine Hull as Mrs. Chichester; and Winnifred Rawls as the unforgettable "Peg" who will play in the play, "Peg O' My Heart" tonight and tomorrow night, they enacted a "skit" from the play, and amused and impressed the assembly very much. In regard to the play, let me again say that the play is superb, and the acting is exceptional, and it will prove most enjoyable to anyone. The assembly concluded with cheers, led by Vernon Swan, and with talks by Coach Sharp, players and students.

Reception Will Honor Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Seavey Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Seavey of Palmyra are entertaining with a reception Saturday at their home from 12 to 4 o'clock for their son, Samuel Seavey and his bride, who were married Feb. 10th, at Sterling, Ill., by Rev. Moore of the Christian church of Sterling. The bride was formerly Miss Marian Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Martin of Sterling.

The reception will be attended by about fifty guests from Dixon, Polo, Sterling and vicinity. Pink will be the principal colors in the pretty decorations, pink flowers and ferns being employed.

The wedding of Miss Martin and Mr. Seavey was a very pretty affair. Mrs. Rae Krider of Sterling played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and sang "For You." The bride was beautifully gowned in a delicate shade of blue silk crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and freesias. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Bertha Martin, and she wore a lovely gown in green and carried yellow roses and freesias. The best man was Jay E. Seavey, brother of the bridegroom. Both are popular and deserving young people and have the best wishes of hosts and friends for future happiness and success.

Bride of Cigar Magnate's Heir

Hopkins-Horner Wedding Celebrated

Miss Lorraine Hopkins of Amboy and Lorraine Horner of Freeport were united in marriage Thursday morning, February 8, at eleven o'clock in the Methodist parsonage of Amboy, Rev. E. M. Edwards, pastor of the church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stover attended the couple.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at noon at the home of the bride's parents to the newlyweds, the attendants and the members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Horner are residing at 305 S. State avenue in Freeport where the groom is employed.

The bride is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hopkins of Amboy. She received her education in the schools of Polo and Amboy, being graduated from Amboy township high school in the class of 1933. She has resided in Amboy for the past seven years.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Horner of Freeport. He was educated in the Amboy schools and was graduated from Amboy township high school in the class of 1932. He moved with his parents to Freeport about a year ago and has since resided in that city.

Use Best Powder On Your Face

You can't afford to use anything but the very best powder on your face. There's no economy in getting an inferior grade.

The surest way to ascertain the quality of a face powder is to buy it from a reliable manufacturer. Don't buy it until you have tried some on your own skin. It should be soft as velvet and contain no streaks. If the powder you are using now cakes on your face, better try a new brand.

Don't go in for exotic shades of face powder except for formal evening wear. Your powder should match the tone of your complexion. You wear it to keep your skin from getting shiny and to give yourself a suave, well-groomed appearance. Warm toned powders usually are more flattering. For instance, if your skin is fairly dark, get a rachel powder which has pinkish or peach toned lights in it. Very few girls can wear flesh powder and practically no one can use a white powder.

Orchid, yellow and green powders are not for street wear. You dust them on over your regular powder and make-up when you wear formal clothes in the evening. They are too exotic to be worn with daytime costumes. However, under artificial lights, they add an extra touch of glamor.

Lee Co. C. E. Union Saturday and Sunday

The Christian Endeavor young people of Lee County will actively participate in the observance of the fifty-third anniversary of the founding of the first Christian Endeavor society. The observance will be held on Saturday, February 17, and Sunday, February 18. The observance is being promoted on a larger scale than ever in all parts of North America in a call to wider attention to the movement of the "Witnessing For Christ" program which Christian Endeavor societies have adopted. The high point of the observance will take place on Sunday afternoon when T. H. Hoffman, president of the Illinois C. E. Union, will give the main address. The subject for his address will be: "Witnessing for Christ." Jacob Lentz will install the newly elected officers. Mr. Lentz is the State Campaign Superintendent. The public is invited to attend this service which will be held at the Grace Church at 2:30.

Are Wed on Valentine's Day in Ashton

Adam T. Smith and Miss Cora Luscher, popular and highly respected young people of Reynolds township, were united in marriage at the Lutheran church, Ashton, on Wednesday, Feb. 14th. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hanke, pastor and was witnessed by relatives of the young couple. Following the nuptials, the wedding party enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, in Reynolds township. The happy young people will reside on the Smith farm.

MARIAN MARTIN CREATES Dainty Morning Dress

Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart Included.

Pattern 9803

There's no reason why one shouldn't look just as attractive at home as in the street or at a party. House dresses should be designed just as carefully. This one is. In fact you can take the same pattern and make an afternoon rock with it. The only difference is that in the first case you use a cotton print, and in the second you use a silk print. It's fun to be well dressed at home as well as abroad! Then you don't mind who drops in unexpectedly while you're doing your housekeeping chores.

Pattern 9803 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 7-8 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write very plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

PARIS HAS TROUBLES.

To understand the current unpleasantness at Paris, look upon the background.

France is a younger republic than the United States, and its present status as a republic was marked at its inception by an on-again, off-again royalist regime. There are royalists in France today, large numbers of blue-bloods and their hangers-on who would be benefited enormously by restoration of their ancient estate as a class. These would be glad to see the republic upset.

There is also a fascist party in France which oppose the royalists and likewise fears the communists, who have displayed some strength in elections of late years. These fascists, while claiming no bonds with either the Mussolini or Hitler groups, might be expected to follow the same style of government if they could attain power.

There are also communists in France. They are the dissatisfied element in its worst manifestation. They have no property, never have had any to boast of, and can see no way to obtain relief except by the Russian route.

In addition to these major groups there was Stavisky, the fly in the ointment. He organized a swindle which was connected with the government "pawn shop." It appeared such a rational business matter that certain French government officials were roped in. Even this would not have been so bad except that the stability of several insurance companies, which bought bonds was affected. With the disclosure of the swindle, police went to arrest Stavisky and found him dead; at least they so reported. Others said police murdered Stavisky to keep him from implicating high officials.

In connection with the Stavisky affair there are said to have been two plots. First, that the government officials implicated hoped to profit with Stavisky, and that when discovery came, they had Stavisky murdered to protect themselves from exposure, then reported Stavisky as a suicide. At this distance the rumor sounds far-fetched. Another plot, it was charged by the fascists, was that Stavisky, a Russian Jew, was employed by the soviet government to engineer the swindle to discredit the capitalist system of France and bring about a red revolution. This, too, sounds far-fetched. Is Stalin that subtle?

At any rate, the royalists, communists and fascists making capital jointly out of the swindle exposure, rioted side by side in the Place de la Concorde, all working for the overthrow of the government, and willing to fight it out among themselves later to determine who should organize a new regime. Except for its tragic aspect it must have been amusing to see the privilege-seeking royalists, the hard-boiled fascists and the unwashed reds working together for the same immediate purpose, all of them tossing bricks at the republican soldiers and police.

Ex-service men of France, too, were in the jumble. But their interest was purely local. They sought restoration of a chief of police who had been ousted. Some of them, of course, may have been communists, fascists or royalists, also, but as an organization of soldiers they wanted the Paris police chief, ousted because of leniency with former mobs, reinstated in his job. It was a fraternal gesture, the ex-chief having been a soldier.

The new government of Gaston Doumergue, one of France's elder statesmen, is expected to attempt to maintain an even keel. Should he fail to mollify the conflicting elements France can go fascist, communist or royalist.

The world depression, partly owing to France's commercial and industrial makeup, struck France later than other countries. The government was charged with tardiness in recognizing the slump when it came, and with neglecting to take measures to soften the blow.

The depression, of course, is causing unrest. Add to this unrest the turmoil of communist, royalist and fascist plotting, and it will be easy to see that Marianne is having plenty of sorrow.

Europe's Greatest Apartment House Shelled in Vienna

Vienna's Karl Marx House (above), housing 2000 Socialist families, became the center of the grim fighting in the Austrian Socialist uprising when government troops opened artillery fire on the famous $4,000,000 dwelling, Europe's largest apartment house. Residents held off the troops by machine gun fire.

"Not Mine to Give!"

Because God is a God of law he is a God of order. There is nothing arbitrary in the Divine Government. In the Eternal Mind there is no partiality. God has no favorites. There is no such thing as a social pull. We cannot have things just because we want them, or because we ask for them, or because our parents are ambitious in their dreams for us. This universe is built on justice and our prayers cannot upset the order of the Divine Administration. James and John were efficient servants of the Master. They expected a new government to be set up. They hoped the best positions would fall to them. They made their wishes known only to be repulsed. They did not understand the ways of God. Blessings are not dispensed by favoritism. Men are not lifted into high position by flattery. Such positions come to those who are fit to fill them. Often we ask for things and are peeved because we do not get them. We do not get them because we do not deserve them.

PRAYER: Use us, Lord, in the building of Thy Kingdom. Any place in which Thou canst use us is the place we want to fill. We are poor but Thou canst enrich us, empty but Thou canst fill us, weak but Thou canst baptize us with Thy power. Amen.

CIVIL WORKS

It is a trait of most people (even as you and I) to magnify in their minds the bad things they find in the works of others. By this method of judging, they cannot see a frank picture.

The CWA has succeeded in doing many things. Some of these accomplishments are good, even if many of them are bad. The sensational graft, the worst features of the program, stands out boldly. But, if we would be fair, we must not allow the faults in the administration of the project completely overshadow the obvious good which has come with it.

First of all, the CWA had put a radically new twist in the matter of relief for the unemployed. Old formulas have been scrapped almost completely, probably in many cases for the good of all concerned. The dole has been junked in favor of a system which gives the unfortunate the right to work.

The unemployed who were formerly on the relief rolls were at the same time on the lists of a cheap employment agency. If prospects of jobs were brought to the attention of the relief administrators, the unemployed were expected to fill those jobs regardless of the wages paid. This condition could not be avoided, and it must be added, it was not the fault of the administrators themselves.

But under the CWA the outlook changed completely. Those who found employment in this vast program were assured of wages which were equal to at least the minimum paid by the private employers of their locality. Only those very ones who have thus found work can describe the dawn of a new hope which came to them.

Last winter there were many riots and uprisings of the American unemployed. These, fortunately, were only local affairs and were not staged under the guiding hand of any national organization. The nearest thing to an unemployed movement on a national scale (and this was not necessarily radical) was the "bonus army." But if the suffering had increased, or continued at its former pace, the sparks of revolution might easily have been fanned into a national conflagration.

No one can say what might have happened in America if the CWA had never been launched. The American people have shown great patience throughout this terrible depression, but there is certainly a breaking point even for them. So as we read of recent internal disturbances in France, we are apt to think a little more kindly of the CWA, with all its obvious faults.

There is now a bill before Congress which would make the civil works administration permanent. When private industry could not take care of all labor, under this bill the government would put the surplus to work on projects of recognized public good. In that way there would be no unemployed.

This bill, a product of Representative Kelly of Pennsylvania, faces a stormy voyage. In the first place, the President has announced definitely his intention of vetoing the CWA until it is non-existent. Then, too, if the bill were made a law, there would always be a fertile field for the ever-present grafters. It seems more likely that the unemployed of the future will be put back to work by shortening hours of labor in private industries through a continuation of industrial codes.

When the CWA was born, it presented the practical solution to the relief problem. It was set up in a hurry, and the old relief formation was the only way of administering the program until a new organization could be formed. It has been inefficient, and grafters have blackened it. But the CWA is still a sensible plan.

Everyday Religion

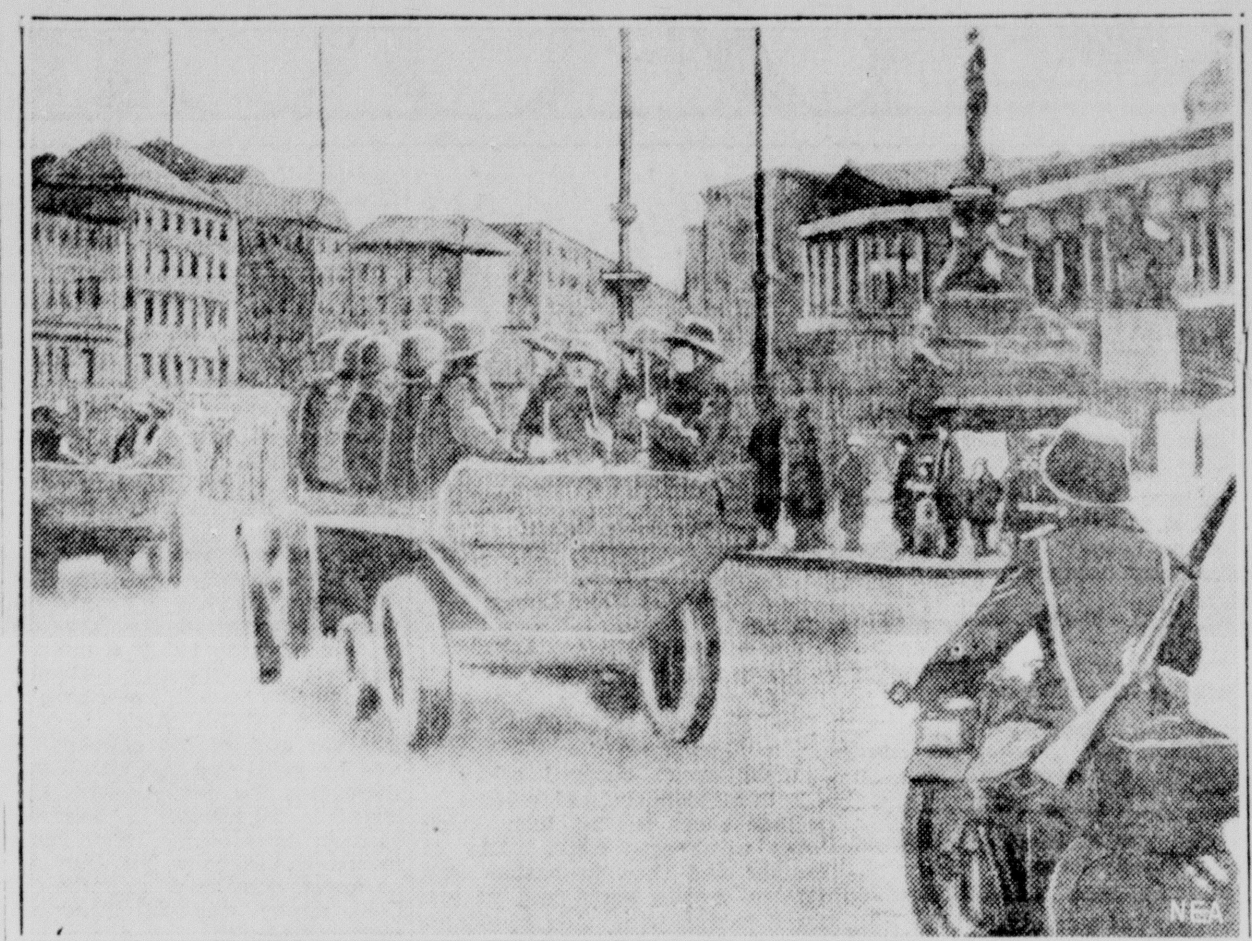

"SEX O'CLOCK"

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

We have too much sex-talk in our day. It was all very well to take off the old taboo of silence, but we have let things run wild, swinging from a false modesty to a frankness that is immodest and unwise. We have gone too fast and too far, and it is time to call a halt.

On the stage, in the moving pictures, in our fiction the subject of

As Austrian Troops Rushed Into Action

Vienna's gay streets resounded with the grim rumblings of army trucks when, as shown in this radio-photo, heavily armed Heimwehr troops rushed to suppress the Socialist uprising. This picture, taken as civil war gripped the Austrian capital, was flown to London and then transmitted by radio to NEA Service and the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

sex is played up to an extreme point, and often in a flippant, cynical spirit. He who runs may read, if he is willing to use his eyes; and if he will open his ears he will hear boys and girls in their middle and later teens talking of things he never heard of in his life.

In America we seem to have swallowed whole the Freud dogma of sex, hook, line and sinker, fishing rod and all. It is not so in England in the same degree, and in Europe Freud is discounted. But among us a false psychology has been made a smoke-screen, a defense-mechanism, behind which a wild, lawless, ruthless spirit is unleashed and has its fling.

As a result, sex is exaggerated out of all proportion, and thought and life are thrown out of focus. Sex is a fact of life, profound, creative, and holy, if we keep it so. Ignorance is not innocence; it is just ignorance. Knowledge is not guilt but the way of safety, since we are under a moral obligation to be intelligent and live by fact.

But alas, we have failed almost one hundred per cent in teaching youth what it ought to know, leaving it to learn the facts in devious, dubious, painful and often dirty ways. This cannot go on—the whole question is out in the open now, whether we are ready to acknowledge it or not. Sex must be dealt with and given decent and wise direction.

How to do it, without doing more harm than good, is hard to know; but it must be done. No doubt good will come out of the muddle in the end, and a clearer thought and a cleaner life will emerge; but not without much mistake and suffering which might be avoided if we are wise.

Our religion, if it is real and vivid, will help us most. For without spiritual vision not only sex, but all life drops to a lower level.

COWAN SCHOOL P. T. A. PLANNING MINSTREL SHOW

Performance Will be Given
Next Thursday Evening

By Olive V. Bowers
Brookville—The majority of the farmers in this vicinity signed contracts under the corn-hog production plan at meetings held here recently at the town hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoak, Orville Hess and Miss Velma Hess motored to Tiskilwa, Ill., Sunday for a visit with Rev. H. Nunamaker and family. Rev. Nunamaker is an uncle of the latter three.

Mrs. Anna Manning spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Rahn at Freeport. Mrs. Rahn has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Shafer entertained at dinner Saturday evening the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Johann and her sister, Mrs. Ray Wulbrandt and family of Dixon.

Mrs. Luella Kahl and son Russell of Freeport were Sunday dinner guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. O. Shafer and family.

S. L. Lower of Stockton spent Friday in the home of Mrs. Della Michael and her mother, Mrs. Harriett Lower.

The Woman's Missionary Society will observe the World's Day of Prayer with a public service at the church on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Widmer, pastor of Grace Evangelical church, has arranged a series of Lenten meditations to continue until Easter, based on "The Ministry of Christ."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Johann, their daughters Hazel and Betty, enjoyed Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Johann at Shannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harter spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Rauser at Mt. Carroll.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Cowan school are arranging a black-face minstrel show to be given Thursday evening, Feb. 22. Outstanding characters will be the "Doctor" and "Onions." A Negro mammy will sing several solos, and there will be fun galore, according to an announcement by the committee chairman, Mrs. Harold Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wehmeyer and son Wade and Mrs. Anna Northey, attended funeral services held on Thursday at Monroe, Wis., for the late Mrs. Charles Srenser. Mrs. Srenser was the youngest sister of Mrs. Northey.

Miss Lucille Kramer of Freeport enjoyed a week end visit with her sister, Mrs. Clyde Dampman and family.

Daily Health Talk

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

During recent years much attention has been paid to the problem of heart disease.

Popular education has aroused much interest in such conditions as rheumatic heart disease, valvular disease, myocarditis, arteriosclerosis and coronary thrombosis. This latter condition is particularly puzzling.

Coronary thrombosis is a disease which is caused by the sudden blockage of some portion of the arterial system of the heart.

The heart is not fed directly from the blood which it circulates. It has, on the contrary, a system of blood vessels, which penetrate its musculature. The principal of these vessels of the heart are called the coronary arteries.

The term thrombus means a plug. Hence, coronary thrombosis means a plugging up of the coronary arteries. Such plugging of the artery interferes with the flow of blood to some portion of the heart muscle with the result that, if the blockage is complete, some portion of the heart muscles dies.

If only a small portion of the heart is affected, the destroyed muscle tissue may be replaced by scar tissue and the heart may carry on without much impairment.

Coronary thrombosis is relatively rare under the age of 40 and is much more likely to occur in those over 50 years of age. Arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries is the principal predisposing cause of coronary thrombosis. There also appears to be some element of familial tendency. Quite commonly associated with arteriosclerosis is of course, high blood pressure.

The disease is usually developed acutely, suddenly. Sharp pain is the outstanding symptom, the pain being referred to the chest in the region of the heart, under the breast bone, across the shoulders and down the left arm.

Treatment for the condition is rest and the administration of narcotic substances to relieve the pain.

Tomorrow: Treating Psoriasis.

Giant Iguana Harmless

Though the giant iguana has a fierce-looking face he is quite harmless, but he is not afraid of anything, even man. When full grown this giant lizard is about a yard long, and his head which is a bright lemon yellow, looks as if it were covered with cobble stones from the scales on it. The back is red toning down to a dark brown around the flanks. The crest of spines on his neck adds to his armored appearance. These creatures come from the Galapagos Islands. A member of the same family, the Australian frilled lizard, has a large ruff which he opens up to terrify an enemy.

Graves of Destroyed Tribe

Graves have been found in the Elfen district of Germany of 8,000 members of a Celtic tribe which, it is believed, was entirely destroyed by Julius Caesar in 53 B. C.

First Picture Post Cards

Picture post cards appear to have come into popular use in connection with the first of the world fairs, the great exposition held in Hyde Park, London, in 1851.

NOW EATS ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter: "Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic.

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan, 6811 Buffalo Ave., Jacksonville, Florida.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STADIUM MATCH TONIGHT FIRST OF BIG SERIES

Matchmaker Lewis Has Plans for Several Title Battles

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Vince Dundee, generally recognized on this side of the Atlantic as middleweight champion, and Ben Jebb, who had the same distinction less than a year ago, will meet tonight in a ten round non-title bout calculated to help major league boxing back on its feet in Chicago.

It will be the Chicago Stadium's first pugilistic attraction since last December, and if Matchmaker Nate Lewis' plans work out, it will pave the way for a pair of championship engagements. Jebb, who during his brief term of office as champion fought a 15 round draw with Dundee, does not figure directly in the plans for championship battles. Rather, the winner of another ten rounder between Frankie Battaglia, tough Italian from Winnipeg, Man., and Kid Leonard of East Moline, Ill., has been promised a title match with Dundee, an arrangement which involves some ifs.

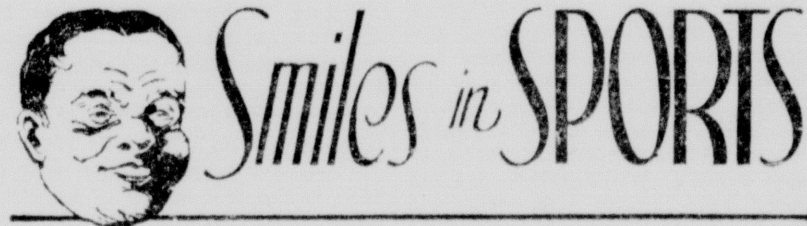

Lewis Tells Plans Dundee, of course, must lick Jebb. The winner of the Battaglia-Leonard battle also must operate impressively enough to qualify for a title match. Dundee and Battaglia were the favorites today, and will, if nothing occurs to spoil Lewis' plans, meet in the Stadium for the title next month.

Harry Dubinsky, Chicago welterweight, and Tracy Cox, a slugger from Indianapolis, will meet in the

"So you're squawking, eh?" sneered Maxie. "Well, give me that cap, get back here, and I'll drive you."

with the finest comeback of the tourney to date.

After taking successive beatings from Willie Hoppe, Allen Hall and Jay Bozeman, Thurnblad suddenly found himself and today had won five matches in a row to pull up to sixth place in the standings.

Starting his streak with a conquest of Kinney Matsuyama, the Chicagoan, winner of the crown two years ago, carried it on at the expense of Tiff Denton, Otto Reisel, Len Kenney and finally, last night, of Alfredo de Oro, 71-year-old Cuban.

Thurnblad had to travel 81 innings longest game of the championship, to win, 50-47.

Bozeman hung up his sixth straight triumph of the tournament yesterday, beating Denton, 50-34, while Welker Cochran remained in the running with a 50-47 decision over Matsuyama for his fifth victory against one defeat. Reisel won the other game of the day from Augie Kleckhefer, 50-49.

Today's schedule called for afternoon games between Kenney and Denton; and Johnny Layton and Kleckhefer, and evening engagements between Matsuyama and Reisel, and Hoppe and De Oro. Victories for Layton and Hoppe would send these two veterans into a tie with Cochran for second place.

"OLD FOX" FINDS HOLDOUT FEVER HAS HIT STARS

Many of Best Players on Senators' Club Are Unsigned

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Clark C. ("Old Fox") Griffith, winner of many a hold-out battle as owner of the Washington Senators, is having a bad attack of contract trouble.

From Biloxi, Miss., where Griffith has gone into training in advance of his American League champions for the continuing wage battles, comes word that he's even losing some time from his golf because of worry.

Griffith is reported to feel a deep pain on the right side of his infield.

Joe Kuhel, first baseman and probably the Senators' fastest advancing star, has sent back in some duds an unsigned contract suggesting that he take a cut.

Unsigned also is Buddy Myer at second, along with the entire catching department, Heinie Manush, heavy hitting outfielder, and the entire pitching staff with the exception of Monte Weaver.

Stars Unsigned

That includes not only such pitchers as Earl Whitehall and Alvin Crowder, with Luke Sewell, who did 80 per cent of the catching last season, but Jack Russell and Walter Stewart, regular moundmen, and Cliff Bolton and Moe Berg, assistant backstoppers.

The only important new Senatorial face at Biloxi will be Johnny Stone, who was traded by Detroit in exchange for the outfield veteran, "Goose" Goslin.

Griffith still doesn't think the holdouts will be unreasonable, and believes the team will be the same as last year, with the exception of Stone.

He has several men coming up from the minors or the sandlots for try-outs. He will take an extra look at three bought from Albany: Mark Filley, a pitcher, and Fred Sington and Austin Dugas, outfielders.

third ten rounder of the program.

After the middleweight title clash next month, if any, the Stadium hopes to present Jimmy McLarin, champion of all the welterweights, in an attempt to add the middleweight title to his collection.

DIXON GOES TO STERLING THIS EVE FOR GAMES

Locals Hope for Better Breaks Than on Home Floor

By Bradley Mott

The wind-up of the basketball schedule is at hand and the Dixon boys face but a few games for the remainder of the season. Among those prominent are Rochelle, DeKalb here, and this evening will see Dixon engage in a heated game with the Sterling boys on the Coliseum floor at Sterling. The Dixon teams are in anticipation of the coming game, and above all other games the Dixon boys would like to take the Sterling crew and show them that the game they won up here was not all the things it appeared.

The double header is called for 7:15 and the Dixon boys are anticipating a big supporting gallery from Dixon when they engage in the game. The Dixon-Sterling games are the looked forward to games of the year, and above anything else, these games should be well attended.

The last games with Sterling were split with Dixon the Dixon lightweights taking the Sterling lights for a ride by the score of 18 to 6, while the major Dixon squad took it on the chin by 5 points, the final score being Sterling 27, Dixon 22. In that game Dixon took a lot of the breaks, and were crippled by the absence of Henry, but tonight they will be in fighting trim, ready for the gold and black boys, in all their ability.

To the Dixon fans the game tonight will be another colorful, interesting and traditional battle with the age-old Sterling rivals, and without a doubt both teams will be backed to the limit by the respective city fans. To any one who desires to see a real game the game tonight will be that battle, and every loyal follower of the purple and white, whether of 1915 or of 1934, should be on deck tomorrow night to give the locals a big hand when they go on the floor to do their best against the fighting Sterling team. That feeling of support means a lot and the least anyone can do is to give those fellows all the support possible. Don't forget at the Coliseum, at Sterling, the first game starting at 7:15.

ACTRESS KEPT SORROW FROM FELLOW ACTORS

Margaret Moffat Carried On Despite Husband's Death

London, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Even fellow actors of Margaret Moffat did not know of the sudden death of her husband, Sewell Collins, American-born theatrical producer, as she acted a part without which the show could not have gone on.

Informed yesterday afternoon while lunching with friends, of her husband's death she decided to "carry on" because, she said, he would have wished it. She is chief laugh-maker of "Wind and the Rain" and has no understudy. She kept the news from the rest of the cast fearing their sympathy might mar the performance.

"When people around you are sympathetic it often is difficult to control one's feelings," she said last night.

Was Found Dead
Collins, who was 57, had been ill earlier in the winter but of late was much better. A doctor, called when he became ill yesterday, found him dead. The cause of death was not announced.

Collins began his career as a cartoonist on the Chicago Tribune. Later he became dramatic critic of the New York Journal and a special writer and illustrator for magazines. He was Chief Intelligence Officer in the British Isles for the United States during the World War.

Among his recent theatrical productions are "The Left Bank," "Hawk Island" and "Afrail of the Dark."

Margaret Moffat was born in Scotland and made her first appearance on the stage at the Savoy Theatre in New York in 1903.

RAILROADS WILL CONSIDER PLEA OF ROOSEVELT

He Asks that Present
Wage Scale Continue
Six Months

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—A White House plea that railroad wages be continued without further reduction will receive consideration by rail chiefs.

Railway executives gathered in Chicago let it be known today that Roosevelt's proposal would be placed for discussion alongside one of their own—a 15 per cent cut in the basic pay rate effective July 1.

Only by federal intervention was a quarrel between railroad executives and their employees settled last fall with agreement on a 10 per cent reduction in the basic rate. The rail chiefs now propose another five per cent slash.

Employe views, voiced through A. F. Whitney, Chairman of Railway Labor Executives, were that "the railroads are not suffering from the wage scales paid their employees."

In his request to both rail labor and executives the President said an extension of the present wage agreement for at least six months "would be of advantage to those directly concerned, and also to the entire country."

Ancient Babylon

The history of Babylon ends with the removal of the inhabitants to Seleucia in 255 B. C., although religious sacrifices were still performed there 100 years later. The walls and other defenses of the city were razed by Xerxes and have never been rebuilt. The city received its start about 3,000 B. C. when the Euphrates river changed its course and left Kish far inland, the people of Kish deserting it and building the new city of Babylon by the water. Sennacherib destroyed the city in 689 B. C., but King Nabopolassar and his son, Nebuchadnezzar, built the city whose ruins may now be seen. During the reigns of those two kings Babylon was the chief city of the world and capital of the Babylonian empire.—Pathfinder Magazine.

BELOVED OREGON WOMAN LAID TO REST THIS WEEK

Many Attended Rites for Mrs. Anne Spoor at Her Late Home

The funeral of Mrs. Anne Spoor of Oregon, held Monday afternoon, at her late home, was very largely attended and the many floral tributes attested the love and esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. The services were in charge of Rev. Richard E. Chandler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Oregon, of which she was a member, assisted by Rev. A. R. Bickenbach, a former pastor. Burial was at Fairmont cemetery, Polo.

Mrs. Spoor passed away at her home last Saturday evening after an illness which began last Christmas day. She was born in what is now Brookville township, Ogle County, August 3, 1847, being the daughter of James and Janette (Parris) Brand who came from Scotland to Canada, and then to the then sparsely settled Ogle county locating at what was Buffalo Grove in 1940.

AN OLD SPANISH CUSTOM

THIS is the provincial Peruvian version of an old Spanish custom. It is a more or less painless bullfight conducted sans banderilleros, picadores and even the gorgeous matador, and it ends without the dramatic pase de muerte which brings the matador's fight to its tragic climax. This type of performance is one of the unique experiences to be enjoyed by visitors to Peru taking the inland excursions arranged for passengers on the weekly cruises operated between New York, or California, and South America's West Coast.

The setting for such a contest as the one pictured here is a more or less informal affair—a large field, with the fight fans grouped at discreet distances around it. The contest is conducted in somewhat the same manner as a prize fight. However it is a fight to the finish rather than a matter of rounds—unlike fighters of the two-footed class—these four-footed combatants are loath to interrupt their battle with intermissions.

Since there are no preliminaries the main bout proceeds at once. The two husky heavyweights charge into the field and without formally go into their "big act." They usually put on a very fast and exciting show, carrying on with a great deal of pep and with surprisingly little damage to each other until one of them feels he is too fatigued to continue. In which case he heads rapidly for home, leaving his opponent to enjoy the applause and his owner to pay the bets. In bull fight circles this act is in no wise construed as cowardice for bulls consider it far less reprehensible to go home than to go down for the count.

ready to help those in need, able to understand the problems of those who she came in contact with, she was beloved by all.

Surviving to mourn her passing are two sons, Harry B. and Albert J. two grandsons, John Austin and Alan Spoor and two great grandsons all of Oregon.

Versions on "When in Rome Do as Romans Do"

Like most such sayings, its origin is not really known. But it is often credited as the advice of St. Ambrose to St. Augustine. The latter was in the habit of dining on Saturday as on Sunday, but at Rome they had begun to fast on Saturday, and Augustine, puzzled by the difference in practice, appealed to St. Ambrose, the bishop of Milan. His counsel was:

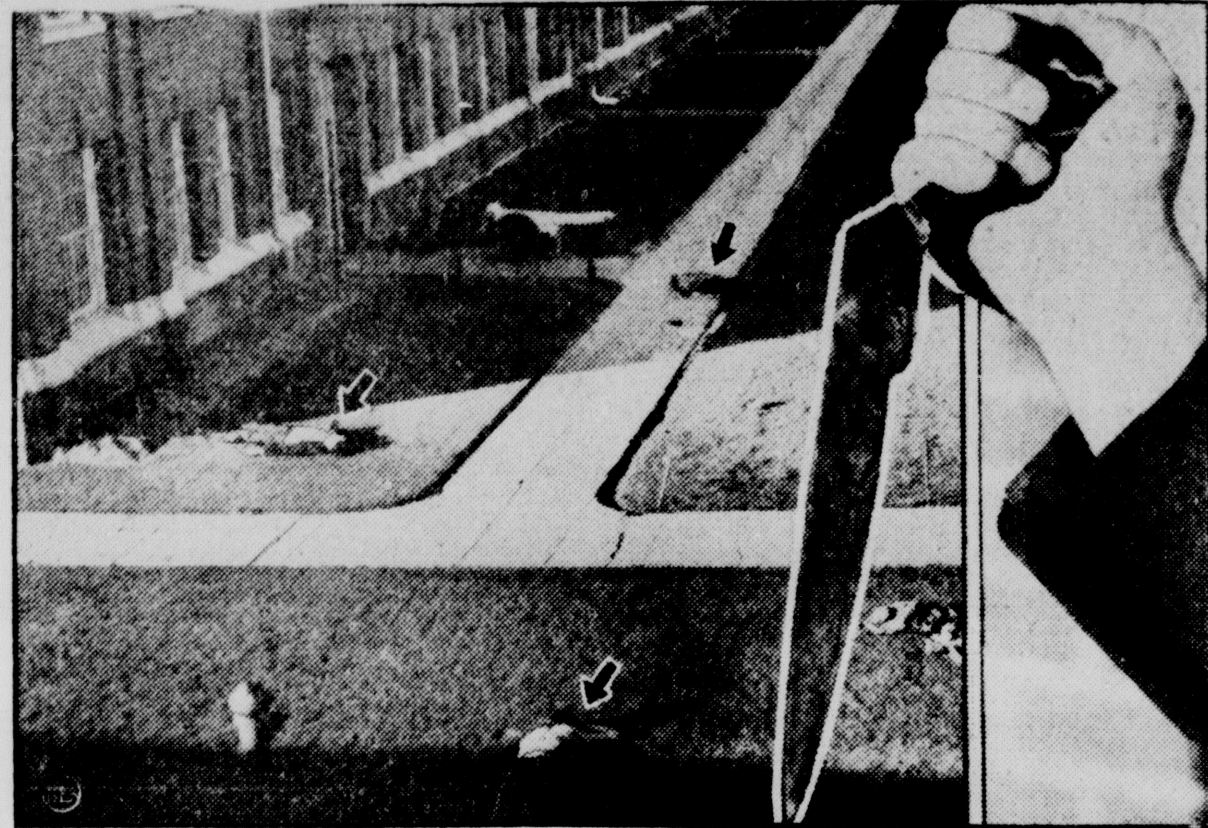

"When I am in Rome I fast as the Romans do; when I am at Milan I do not fast. So likewise you, whatever church you come to, observe the custom of the place, if you would neither give offense to others nor take offense from them."

Other versions of his advice are given, and the same idea is found in other places, as in Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy: "When they are at Rome they do there as they see done."

Not only was Mrs. Spoor identified with the commercial interests of Oregon over a long period of years, she was also active in lodge circles, being a charter member of Sinissippi Chapter, O. E. S. and its first worthy matron, also a member of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Rebekah order.

No resident of Oregon was held in higher esteem or had more friends than Mrs. Spoor. Possessor of a kindly disposition, always

TOMORROW TO BE TAG DAY IN INTEREST OF S. A.

Army's Relief Work Is
Objective of Solicitation Here

Tomorrow, Saturday all day the taggers will go up and down the line in both the residence and business districts of the city under the sponsorship of the local American Legion Post and give everybody a chance to buy and wear a tag giving any amount for it and thus help the Salvation Army in its uplift and relief work in Illinois.

While the grade school girls are tagging the various school districts, the high school girls will have charge of the tagging in the business center. While there are yet other high school girls who will yet volunteer to help in this kind of effort the following have already consented to tag: Lucy Lanton, Marguerite Lund, Hazel Rhodes, Bernice Peckham, Gladys Odenthal, Velma Peckham, Ruth Lengel, Helen Long, Ruth Smith, Rita Toite, Ethel Trotter, Helen Reynolds, Alice Statler, Genevieve Stiles, Phyllis Andrews, Ilafaye Rinehart, Kathryn Herman, Alice Helfrich, Elizabeth Jones, Anne Templeton and Helen Heller.

The tag headquarters for the day are the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Galena Avenue where the taggers are asked to report for duty by eight o'clock and get their assignments, instructions and tag materials. Any other girls who will help in the tagging are asked to report there also. The Legion are offering prizes for the best taggers, that is the six girls who have the most money in their tag boxes when the tag effort is done will get boxes of chocolate candy. These boxes will be handed out Saturday night.

Fear of Pain Saves Us From Many False Steps

Mother Nature, for our preservation and safety, has hedged the trail from the cradle to the grave with pain. Pain is beneficial because it stands guard over our lives to protect us from penalties of broken natural laws. Were it not for pain, observes a writer in the New York World-Telegram, few children would grow up with all their fingers. The Canada thistle beside the cowpath keeps the barefoot boy inside the straight and narrow way as he drives the cows down at night. Prickers on blackberry bushes remind us that we cannot thoughtlessly gather the fruits of earth. Strong teeth on the smilax vine remind evil doers that though the jungle offers sanctuary it is not to be received without due respect. The fear of pain is the well-spring of sagacity, forethought, careful living. Eating green apples in Eden caused distresses that have come down the ages and made millions of men and women eaters of legitimately ripened fruit. In the quick pain that follows the breaking of natural law probably lies the root of conscience, that unwritten code within each human breast upon which civilization, trade, government, banking and a thousand other human institutions are founded. The rights of others are enforced by the poison ivy beside the swimming hole, the warning of the rattlesnake and the pale of neutrality about the heret's nest.

15 Pct. Reduction in Railroad Wages Sought by Managers

Chicago, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The Conference Committee of Managers of the country's principal railroads today served notice of a fifteen per cent reduction of pay on all classes of union railway labor.

The notice read in part: "We hereby give notice of our intention to reduce on and after July 1, 1934, all now existing basic rates of pay by fifteen (15) per cent, such reduction to be continued in effect from said July 1, 1934, for the period of one year."

The Conference Committee of Managers is the group which negotiated the wage agreements which stopped impending railroad strikes a year ago.

Fishing for Lost Anchors
One of the strangest industries that has grown up around large harbors in various parts of the world is that of fishing for lost anchors. So valuable are these anchors that ships often mark the place where they lose them on their charts, and engage salvage companies to recover them. It is not at all uncommon for a ship to lose an anchor, owing to the enormous strain upon it and the chain. While modern science has eliminated most of the hazards of the sea, vessels must still heave-to when mountainous waves and howling winds put too great a strain on the hull for continued headway. There is then only one thing left for a vessel to do—drop its heaviest anchors. Despite all modern devices for ship's safety, the anchor is still the emergency brake.

"There's the doorbell again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furrier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean!

It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price.

And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered. Every day, through the advertising columns of this newspaper, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the market-places of the world.

They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are always surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

'William Tell' Play Is Costly

Lights of New York
By L. L. STEVENSON

Again, I'm frank to say I wouldn't like to be a policeman. There were 214 jobless men. They had assembled in West side court to hear the case of an employment agent who had collected from them $10 to $12 each—where do jobless men get money they pay to gyp employment agents?—on the assurance that they would be given work. They got neither the work nor their money back. The employment agent pleaded guilty and was fined $25. That was all the magistrate could do—the law setting a limitation on the punishment of an offense of that nature. True, the agent could have been tried on 213 other charges with fines of $25 in each instance. But the $25 or any part of it would not go to the jobless men, most of whom had given that agent every cent they could scrape up. So there were mutterings among the 214 and the agent, perspiration starting from his forehead, looked about for protection.

That's why I repeated a statement made herein previously—possibly several times previously for all I know. In the court were many police with prisoners. Court attaches made a call on them for assistance. So they had to accompany that shrinking gyp agent down the stairway and out into the street where there were 214 angry men waiting for him. I saw the police go into action. They didn't use their usual tactics in dealing with a riot. But when the rush came, they did their duty. Taking it all in all, they were gentle, remarkably gentle, though they were far outnumbered and one policeman was injured. But they knew more about such things than jobless men and by and by the gyp agent got into a taxi and escaped. And I'm willing to wager that every policeman that took part in that combat wished that, for a minute or so at least, he could forget all about duty.

Along those same lines, though the police had no work to do, was the case of that man—a respected business man for 20 years—who was accused of swindling charwomen, scrubwomen, maids, chauffeurs and others out of their life savings—a total that may reach a million dollars. I didn't see that court room scene but a friend told me about it. The room was crowded with men and women who had laid away their savings penny by penny and then had invested them with the prisoner in the hope of providing for old age. Humble people they were all of them, my friend said, humble and grief laden because of the betrayal of their trust.

In this instance the prisoner was in no physical danger. But the feelings of those present were expressed when the court set the alleged swindler's bail at $100,000. Cheers and clapping of hands followed. I wonder what swindlers do with money they obtain from charwomen, scrub women and others of the humble and lowly?

New York's greed for minutes is always being exhibited in the subway. Rushes for trains cause mob scenes and there is continued pushing and jostling in order to get to the forefront. But what I started to say was that the other morning at Ninety-sixth street, most of the passengers comfortably seated in a local train got off and forced their way into an overcrowded express train in the hope of saving three or four minutes on the journey to Times square. Some way or other, it gave me a slight feeling of superiority, when the express train, delayed by line congestion, pulled into the station several seconds after the local.

Street scene: A somewhat sedate looking man sitting on a bench near the Soldiers and Sailors monument on Riverside drive with his head very close to that of a slim, young blond whose fingers were interlocked with his. Off to one side and apparently entirely unnoticed, a determined looking woman taking a snapshot of the couple!

BLIZZARD HALTS RESCUE OF 100 ON ARCTIC ICE

Baby Among Russians Shipwrecked in Bering Straits

Moscow, Feb. 16—(AP)—An Arctic blizzard howled today around a party of 100 shipwrecked persons as they camped on the ice in Bering Straits and waited for 60 dog teams racing to the rescue.

In the party is a five-month-old baby, born aboard the vessel Cheluskin, which sank three days ago on its way back from Wrangel Island with scientists and colonists, both men and women.

Russian airplanes assigned to rescue work had to wait at Providence Bay and Cape Weiland for the storm to abate. It was a matter of chance whether the fliers of the dog sledges would reach the scene first.

Have Dug In
The party, headed by Professor Otto Schmidt, have dug themselves in. They have supplies salvaged from their vessel, which was crushed in the ice, and they reported by radio that they are "healthy and strong."

Most of the party had been assigned to relieve colonists at Wrangel Island, but were unable to land because of the ice, and they turned back, leaving the inhabitants there for another winter.

Eight women and a three-year-old girl are among those stranded. The girl was traveling with her mother, who intended to join her husband, commandant of the island colony.

TO CONDEMN LAND

Springfield—Land situated at the south end of Quincy known as Martindale, on which the government plans immediate construction of a lock and dam across the Mississippi river under the public works program, was ordered into government possession by Federal Judge J. Earl Major. The owners will be paid a figure set by a jury.

ASKS ACCOUNTING

Cardinals Are To Carry Many Men To South

Frisch Is Seeking More Power in St. Louis Aggregation

St. Louis, Feb. 16—(AP)—Anxious to improve the attack and defense of the first line, Manager Frankie Frisch will have eleven infielders, himself included, on hand when the Cardinals gather at Bradenton, Fla., March 5 to begin preparations for the 1934 National League pennant race.

The Cardinal roster, just released by Secretary Clarence Lloyd, shows an abundance of pitchers—16—but only three catchers and six outfielders.

Eleven names must be cut from the roster before March 15, so the infielders and pitchers will have ample cause for worry when Branch Rickey comes around looking for help for the club's minor league "farms."

All three catchers will be retained, and Frisch is expected to carry five outfielders, six infielders and eight or nine pitchers.

Club's Roster
The roster:
Pitchers—James O. (Tex) Carlton, Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, Paul Dean, Edward Greer, Burleigh Grimes, Jesse Joseph Haines, William Hallahan, Clarence E. Heise, Robert Klingner, James I. Mooney, Charles Flint Rhem, G. E. Spencer, W. H. Walker and James Winford.

Catchers—Virgil Davis, William P. Delaney, Jr., and Miguel A. Gonzales, also listed as a coach.

Infielders—Bernhard Berthman, Thomas Carey, James A. Collins, Clifford B. (Pat) Crawford, Edward Delker, Leo E. Durocher, Frank F. Frisch, John Leonard (Pepper) Martin, William Myers, Lewis E. Riggs and Burgess Whitehead.

Outfielders—Joseph M. Medwick, Colonel Buster Mills, Gene Moore, Ernest Ralph Orsatti, John H. Rottrock, Jr., and George A. Watkins.

SCIENTISTS PLUNGE INTO "PIT OF HELL"

Face Many Perils in Survey of Desolate Spot.

Durango, Colo.—Away from the last frontier of law in the United States, into the "Pit of Hell," Ansell Hall of the National Park service is leading a party of forty or more archeologists and zoologists.

This so-called "black spot" of the Southwest is located principally north of the Colorado river in southeastern Utah and comprises an area of 600 to 700 square miles. The purpose of the expedition, as announced, is to make a survey of the uncharted district and to explore any ruins discovered.

The party is said to be threatened almost hourly, day and night, by renegade Indians, who resent the white man's invasion.

Another contingent of the exploration party, made up of engineers and geologists, with headquarters at Betanika Ruins, Piute reservation, Ariz., is exploring that portion of the "black spot." It has an airplane equipped with an aerial camera. The Piutes and their neighbors, the Navajos, are friendly.

Peril Dogs Party.
Starting from Mexican Hat, permanent base, part of Hall's party, using folding boats, shot the rapids of the San Juan river and went to Lee's Ferry on the Colorado. The remainder of the party is using a pack train of mules and horses.

The expedition promises rich reward in geological and scientific data, according to reports received here. Already ruins have been discovered, it is stated, that were old when Christ was born, and bones of the Pliocene era and skulls of man have been found that may add thousands of birthdays to the oldest ancient man.

The invaders are in a land that is solemn and frightful. The heat is terrific. A merciless sun beats down upon them. Water is scarce. Cactus, sparse, rare grass. Deep sun-baked earth makes the going slow. Dust clouds, red-colored and smothering, powder them all, man and beast of burden, and turns them to ghastly, hideous creatures. Dancing, shimmering heat rises in palpable waves. The clear, dry heat sucks the moisture from their bodies.

History Revealed.
The early history of the United States is written in the ruins snuggled along the cliffs in the hidden canyons that traverse the "Pit of Hell," so called because so far it has been impenetrable, scarcely watered, desolate and remote. Page after page of history is being revealed. There are foot prints in the sandstone; there are photographs on the cliffs and boulders; there are human and animal bones buried in clays and gravel and pottery and stone implement and ruins of cities.

The renegade Indians, reported to be opposing the advance of the Hall exploration party, are believed to be led by progeny of members of the old Poik and Posey band of southern Utes that for many years and as late as 1920 waged a guerrilla warfare and rustled cattle from stockmen of the district, in retaliation for settlement of land once held by the band, although the disputed territory was not embraced in the Ute reservation.

Married Flirts

BEGIN HERE TODAY
GYPSY MORELL and TOM WEAVER are married on the same day as LILA ROTALING and DEREK BLISS but while Lila lives in luxury Gypsy has to struggle to keep expenses within Tom's income.

After Gypsy's son is born her days become a dreary round of caring for him and caring for the home Tom is frequently away from home evenings and Gypsy suspects he is interested in VERA GRAY who works in the same office.

Lila confides to Gypsy that she intends to divorce Derek and marry MARKO BROUGHTON, richer and older.

Gypsy's father is seriously injured in a motor accident, but recovers. Gypsy is so relieved she resolves to forget her jealousy of Vera. However, Vera continues to pursue Tom.

Gypsy's friend, SUE CANAVAN, starts her by declaring that HUNT GIBSON, an engineer, is in love with Gypsy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVIII
"I DON'T know what you mean," Gypsy repeated but her heart was beating very fast. Sue's blazing eyes, in a white face, accused her.

"I never should have thought it of you," Sue went on in a low shaking tone. "Flirting around you with a nice husband of your own a baby."

"Sue! Why I've never in the world..." Gypsy was hot, angry, mutinous. Hunt had been a friend; that was all. It was horrible of Sue. Her illness must be affecting her mind.

To Gypsy's amazement and discomfort, the other girl put her handkerchief to her eyes and began to weep. Gypsy glanced around in consternation. There were only a few people at the tables now. An old lady in black sat in the corner, enjoying a solitary tea. There were two or three absorbed couples. No one was noticing.

"Sue, you mustn't—no here!" The other girl gulped, swallowed, out her handkerchief away. "I'm terribly sorry," she apologized. "I'm not myself, you can see that. I didn't mean all I said. Forget it. You can see how it is with me."

Gypsy saw Sue, in love with Hunt, desperate, jealous. And yet the accusation rankled. Was there any justice in what Sue had said? Had she, Gypsy, sought succor from her own pain in Hunt's attentions? She winced at the thought.

Impulsively she leaned across and patted Sue's hand. "I'm sorry if you've misunderstood," she said softly. "Hunt's awfully fond of you. See him before you go away."

Sue raised her head proudly. "I'll not run after him," she said quickly. "I'll not run after any man. It was only—well, you see, while he was away he used to write to me. Marvelous letters. I got—sentimental about him then. And when he got back so tall and distinguished and interesting, I sort of—fell for him, I guess. It was silly of me. But he seemed to like me a lot. Until this winter when I began not to see so much of him. And he got in with that Village crowd. Ronny's..."

"I KNOW," Gypsy interrupted to say, with a little spasm of guilt.

"Well, then Elsieph drove me crazy, telling me he was in love with you—that he followed you around every place, that he wouldn't go to a party unless he heard you were to be there. I've cried myself sick over it."

"Elsieph!" Gypsy said with fine scorn. "And you listened to her. Well, she's a mischief maker."

Married Flirts

I know that, but some of it was true. He did see lots of you and whenever I met him it was always you he talked about."

"Nonsense." Gypsy's color was high.

"You don't know what a relief it's been to talk it out," Sue said, on a long sigh. "To hear you say there's nothing in it—to know you wouldn't lie to me."

"Of course, I wouldn't lie to you," Gypsy said proudly. "Besides what about Tom? What did you think I was planning? You should have known better than this."

"I'd tell myself, 'there's absolutely nothing in it.' Sue went on. "I'd try to forget about it. And then I wouldn't hear from Hunt for weeks. I'd be sick to death listening for the sound of the phone. No matter who else called I couldn't be bothered. You know how it is." She appealed to the other woman.

"I know," Gypsy told her soberly. "I got awfully run down," Sue confessed. "I haven't been eating much. I don't sleep. The doctor tells me I'll crack up unless I go away and have a rest. And yet—it's killing me to leave him. To think some other girl will be playing with him while I'm hundreds of miles away."

Gypsy signalled the waiter, hovering in the background with a check. The two girls strolled out into the sunshine. "Come back to the apartment with me," Gypsy said. "Let's talk this thing out. I can't bear to think of your going away off there with nothing settled."

In the back of her mind there hovered the ghost of a plan. If Hunt could be made to see that his eyes were opened there might be no need of Sue's long journey.

THE trouble was Gypsy thought ruefully, putting down the receiver, she just didn't know how to say "no" to people. When Lila called, announcing her return and asking Gypsy to a dinner she was giving the following night, she had accepted without thinking. And Tom was behaving very odd about it. He simply said he couldn't go. Gypsy knew he didn't approve of Lila, but that wasn't it entirely. He was too modern to stand aside and judge his wife's friends, no matter what they might do.

"But I said we would," she told him, puzzled. "We don't often go places together these days. I thought you might not mind. Or rather, I didn't think at all. I just accepted, like an idiot, without thinking."

"I'm sorry, darling. I'll not doubtly be tied up with Strathmore tomorrow night. Got to go to Larrington to see him. Get out of it."

But when Gypsy called back to Lila all this the latter was gaily adamant. Nonsense, she would get another man. How about that nice, bronzed engineer chap—Gibson? She had met him at parties last winter and at Gypsy's tea. She'd given him a ring. He could pick Gypsy up.

Gypsy bit her lip and kept silent. It was idiotic—the whole thing was. Tom made no comment when she told him of Lila's arrangement but she had an idea he didn't expect her to do it. Oh dear, it wasn't her fault! Sue would be angry too, if she heard.

She dressed for the party with mixed feelings. Hunt's arrival made her feel shy as a schoolgirl and self-conscious too. He admired her new frock, a soft, adroitly curving affair, of apricot

Weasel Kills Animals by Attacking the Ear

"The weasel," writes Bishop Pontopidan, Norse rival of Baron Munchausen, "although small, kills animals of a much larger size, as the reindeer and bear. He jumps into one of their ears when they are asleep, and adheres so fast by his teeth, that the creatures cannot disengage him. He likewise surprises eagles and hawks, by fixing on them, and never quitting them, even when they mount in the air, until the loss of blood makes them fall down."

Farmers and sportsmen need no such ancient chronicles of the weasel's blood-thirstiness to convince them of the animal's destructive nature to poultry and game. It is the present day "Gyp the Blood" of wild gangsters, according to authorities.

The weasel is the smallest of all American purely carnivorous or flesh eating animals. What it lacks in size it makes up in energy and ferocity. With no reindeer liable to be roaming about, except at Christmas, this pocket edition of ferocity may have reason for an insatiable appetite. These predators, however, hunt both day and night and kill far more than they can eat—for the sheer joy of killing. Prey consists of rabbits, squirrels, rats, mice, poultry and game birds. A weasel always attacks a vital part of its victim, such as the brain, back of neck or the jugular vein on the side.

When Painting Was Crime
Paint, now recognized as a protection and a beautifier, was considered a sign of worldliness and vanity in early New England. In 1630 a clergyman of Charlestown, Mass., was hailed before the city council, charged with the serious crime of painting the interior of his house. During the next forty years there was not a painter in all New England.

There is no record of an airplane accident being caused by lightning.

Doctors Give Creosote For Chest Colds

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggists guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use.—Adv.

GOOD THOUGHTS

Surely civilization is old enough, surely mankind is mature enough so that we ought in our own lifetime to find a way to permanent peace.

—Herbert Hoover

The only sure foundation for this city, for this Commonwealth, and for the world is a foundation built upon the hope which God inspires.

—David Lloyd George

If fraternity and cooperation are possible on the scale of this continent among peoples widely diverse, why not on the scale of the world?

—Calvin Coolidge

I trust in Providence and humanity, and I have confidence that the moral and social forces which now so profoundly agitate the world will work into an increase of goodness and happiness among men.

—John Ireland

Earth's children are weary of strife, greed, and poverty. In the mental horizon of today we find heartening signs of international cooperation. Nations of the world are being drawn together in frank discussions and earnest counsels tending to ameliorate wrong and to establish right in human affairs. What is this drawing power? Whether acknowledged or unacknowledged, it is divine intelligence, divine principle. The power and peace of spiritual attraction are being felt today as never before, and mankind is powerless to resist them.

—Christian Science Journal

And the work of righteousness shall be peace and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings and in quiet resting places.

New Lincoln Photo, Long Hidden, One of His Finest

This picture of Abraham Lincoln, long undiscovered, came to light on his 125th anniversary. It is a pose taken in 1863, the negative of which never had been printed. It was found with other unprinted plates among a collection left to Samuel Porter, of Avon Park, O., by his father, who once conducted a Washington studio. The picture is said to rank with the finest ever made of the martyred president, a striking closeup character study.
